JANESVILLE, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21

THE PROFITS OF LOTTERIES.

It is stated that owing to a defeat in North Dakota, the Louisiana lottery company will try to secure a renewal of its charter in that state, and that it will offer Louisiana for a renewal of twenty-five years, anywhere from $250,000 to $500,000 a year, instead of $40,000, which it now pays. Whether this enormous bribe will be sufficient to seduce the legislators of that state is not certain, but public sentiment everywhere in this Union, is so set against the infamous lottery system, that there is hope that the attempted bribe will not succeed.

An estimate has been made on the profits of the Louisiana lottery during the past twenty-two years of its existence. The income of those having the lottery in charge has been something marvelous. The gross receipts per annum are given as follows:

	Daily.	Monthly.	Yearly.
Revenue	$100,000	$3,000,000	$36,000,000
Expenses	$20,000	$600,000	$7,200,000
Profit	$80,000	$2,400,000	$28,800,000

It has been estimated, so says a report, "that of the average annual receipts of $28,800,000, at least from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 is clear profit. The company can therefore, well afford to pay half a million dollars a year rather than take any risk of losing this immensely profitable business." In California, where tens of thousands of tickets were sold annually, a vigorous war is being waged against the Louisiana lottery. It is a sort of a gambling scheme which demoralizes, and the people, the press, public men, business firms, and men, women and children, are making an earnest appeal against continuing the charter of the lottery. In the circulars issued showing the odds against any hope of winning, the following calculation has been made, being based on one dollar a chance:

1 to 1,000,000 to win $100,000	1 to 1,000,000 to win $50,000	1 to 1,000,000 to win $25,000	1 to 1,000,000 to win $10,000	1 to 1,000,000 to win $5,000	1 to 1,000,000 to win $2,500	1 to 1,000,000 to win $1,000	1 to 1,000,000 to win $500	1 to 1,000,000 to win $250	1 to 1,000,000 to win $100	1 to 1,000,000 to win $50	1 to 1,000,000 to win $25	1 to 1,000,000 to win $10	1 to 1,000,000 to win $5	1 to 1,000,000 to win $2	1 to 1,000,000 to win $1
---------------------------------	--------------------------------	--------------------------------	--------------------------------	-------------------------------	-------------------------------	-------------------------------	-----------------------------	-----------------------------	-----------------------------	----------------------------	----------------------------	----------------------------	---------------------------	---------------------------	---------------------------

This seems a rather small sum, but it is further shown that the company receives before each drawing a sum averaging about $2,000,000, and distributes only about $1,000,000, retaining $1,000,000 for profits. It has been said that of all the states in the Union, California has received the most serious from the raid of this gambling scheme, and that only one-tenth of the gross receipts of the lottery company comes from that state. It is no wonder that California is raising its voice against the lottery.

The Wisconsin State Journal has been sold by Mrs. Atwood to the Hon. Horace A. Taylor, of Hudson, of present United States commission of railways. The amount paid is said to be $50,000. In a note to the public, Mr. Taylor among other things says: "I hope and expect to be able in a short time to improve the paper in many ways. I have engaged a corps of able and experienced newspaper men to take editorial control of its various departments. Unfortunately the new editors, owing to previous engagements elsewhere, cannot take charge for a few weeks to come. I have now no time nor disposition to express my ideas of the requirements of successful journalism, nor even to suggest the important improvements in both the make-up and matter of the paper which I intend shall soon be made apparent. I make no promise and predict no result. The State Journal has long had many readers and friends in Wisconsin. I confidently hope that its future management will be such as to deserve and receive large additions to their number."

It is said that a syndicate is behind Mr. Taylor in the purchase of the Journal, although that gentleman is abundantly able to swing the financial part of the concern himself.

The gratifying news comes from Washington that Sen. Farwell is recovering from his recent illness, and expects to be well enough to attend to his duties in a day or two. The senator has had plenty to worry him lately, and it would not have been surprising if his illness had been even more serious. —Chicago Journal.

As a rule, a man in Mr. Farwell's position is always indisposed, at least in himself, when he goes out to cheer and returns home. It knocks the inspiration out of a man to prove a fight and then get whipped. The senator's little trouble with the president with the unpleasant result, laid him up for two weeks. But all this is profitable unto wisdom. He won't do it again.

Poor Canada! Its estimates for 1890 call for the raising of nearly $47,000,000. This is not so bad of itself, but the expenditures in each province are heavy enough to make the total burden upon the Dominion tax-payer very heavy. Altogether they exceed five millions of dollars to raise about eighty millions of dollars, and when that has been done there still remains a public debt of $285,000,000. No wonder the Dominion wants to get out of debt by joining the United States. Royalty comes high and never pays a dividend.

Senator Edmunds is said to be still undecided whether it is best for him to quarrel with the state department or to resign his place on the committee of foreign relations. There are several very interesting bits of history from which Senator Edmunds might learn something beneficial. He should look them up, study them well, before he resigns. No man ever made a cut or increased his stock of manhood, by outing off his nose to spite his face.

Winning, Ind. Feb. 21.—Word comes from the Indians there are starving. This winter several small bands were kept alive by what the traders could give them. A big council of Indians was held, and it was decided that their only hope for the future existence of their people was to get the government to help them. Fish and game are scarce and fur animals are almost exterminated in some regions.

GENERAL HANGING BEE.

A Bungling Hangman Causes a Sensation at a Pennsylvania Execution.

EVIDENCE AT THE TRIAL OF THE ACCUSED BISHOP.

The Reverend Gentleman Said to Have Been Quite Weak Toward the Ladies—Crucial Items.

CONVICTED, O. Feb. 21.—There have been sensational developments in the trial of Bishop Randolph Dubs. The Bishop has remained away from the church and the trial has been conducted pretty much as his opponents pleased. A letter from the Rev. D. Miller of the New York Conference was read showing that Bishop Dubs had used familiar language in speaking to the wife of the Rev. John Schneider of Naperville, Ill. Bishops Escher and Bowman testified that Bishop Dubs had admitted to them that after his election at the Allentown (Pa.) conference he was expected to compass the downfall of Bishop Escher. Dubs has denied that he ever made such an admission.

The Rev. Mr. Marshall testified that Bishop Dubs, while in Kansas, sat up late at night with the lady of the house where he was staying. The Rev. Mr. Yost testified that Mr. Loos of Tiffin, Ohio, told him that Bishop Dubs was visiting at his home. Mr. Yost was asked if he and Bishop Dubs did not visit a house of doubtful reputation in Buffalo. This question was repeated in several forms, but the inevitable answer was "I refuse to answer."

A letter was read from the Rev. Mr. Linsey, telling how Bishop Dubs, while in Europe, several years ago, had hugged a young woman who was then a chambermaid, but is now the wife of the Rev. C. Zwilling of the Switzerland Conference.

THREE MEN HANGED.

A Bungling Hangman Causes the Hope to Break at a Pennsylvania Execution.

PENNSYLVANIA, Pa., Feb. 21.—Schoop and Cole were hanged together in Moyamensing prison this morning. The drop fell at 10:04.

The crimes of both men were premeditated and carried out in cold blood. Schoop was especially atrocious. On Dec. 27, 1888, some boys playing in Fairmount park found the dismembered remains of a man tied up in two bags, hidden away in a section of water pipe. The crime was finally traced to Schoop, who was a baker at 1212 Caldwell street. Schilling was his assistant. Schoop admitted his guilt, saying that a chambermaid morning he had knocked Schilling down with his fist during a quarrel. Supposing him dead he struck him with a hatchet to make the job sure. He then cut the body up, and carrying it in his wagon to the park, during the night, placed it where it was afterward found by the boys. Schoop's trial developed the fact that he had not quarreled with his victim, but had deliberately murdered Schilling in order to obtain $500 which the latter had saved up. Cole's crime was the killing of McCallister, his roommate. "He had been on the 12th street railroad company, will March 1 retro to accept the first vice-presidency of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company."

Mrs. Martha Nelson fell in front of an approaching locomotive at Glen Falls, N. Y., and when the train was almost upon her was heroically rescued by Robert Fennel, a 14-year-old boy.

This annual national encampment of the Union Veterans Legion is in session at Newark, Ohio. The association has a membership of 75,000, with branches in nearly every State in the Union.

Mrs. George Kator of Newark told her husband she loved another man better, whereupon Mr. Kator went and found the gentleman, brought him to his house, and then wished the couple joy and bid them depart.

Joe Comer, a tough, entered the postoffice at East Point, Ga., on Feb. 17, Wednesday evening for the purpose of causing a row, and was shot and seriously wounded by Oliver E. McQuibby, the Assistant Postmaster.

A drunken rail at Pomeroy, Pa., on the Pennsylvania railroad, caused the wreck of fourteen loaded cars. The Pacific coast press called it the "Great Pacific wreck," and upon the wreck, but no passengers or trainmen were injured.

St. John's Roman Catholic church, at Greenbush, N. Y., was burned. All the vestments were destroyed. An addition costing $80,000, with branches in nearly every State in the Union.

Waukesha night, the residence of John Liston, at Kingston, Ont., was destroyed by fire. Mr. Liston's four children—Theresa, William, Cecilia and John, aged from four to twelve years—were rescued by a fireman and Mrs. Liston, who was rescued by jumping from a window, the mother first throwing out a baby and a five-year-old boy.

Amateurism in the school.

New York, Feb. 21.—At the educational conference here a resolution was unanimously adopted recommending that the American flag be hoisted on every school house and commanding the study of the declaration of independence and other historic American documents. The members pledged themselves to do all in their power to establish such a system in all sections of the Republic and make intelligence and loyalty a blessing.

A STATE WITHOUT A DOLLAR.

Montana's Legislature Adjourns, Leaving Matters in Very Bad Shape.

HEAVENLY MOUNT, Feb. 21.—The life of the Legislature of Montana expired today by constitutional limit and both houses adjourned sine die. The treasury is empty, not a single appropriation or other bill having been passed, and although the State does not owe a dollar, scarce a dollar is in the treasury. The legislature adjourned with the hope of going to provide for the maintenance of the State institutions, particularly the penitentiary at Deer Lodge, until the next session. Last night both the Democratic and Republican members of the legislature issued an address to the people of the State attempting to justify their course.

MR. CHANDLER WARMS UP.

SENATORS WRANGLE OVER THE KILLING OF SAUNDERS.

Sectional Strife Has an Alarming Development on the Proposed World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—In the Senate
the resolution heretofore offered by Mr.
Chandler calling on the Attorney-General
for information as to the assassination of John W. Saunders, was taken up today.
Mr. Chandler resumed his remarks in regard to it. He went to the clerk's desk and had read various documents, newspaper articles, and proceedings of public meetings denunciating the deed,
and the character of the United States
and its officers in the northern district of Florida.

Mr. Chandler offered an amendment directing the Attorney-General to inform the Senate whether any effort had been made by the department of justice to correct the action of the officers of justice which had resulted in partisan jurors, made up mainly from one political party; and, if so, to report the same to the Senate; also directing the Attorney-General to inform the Senate whether he had any information as to officials of the department of justice directing the names of "true and tried Republicans" to be furnished for jurors
of the United States court, and what action
the department of justice had taken in reference to communications of that character.

Mr. Chandler said that the remarks of the Senator from Florida and the amendment offered by him seemed to him to be a premature apology for murder. He wished the Senator (Mr. Pasco) to understand distinctly that his speech was an attempt to make a sort of left-handed apology for murder and to evade investigation.

Public fame is not without its drawbacks. Bishop Vincent was once in a railway train, says the Chautauquan,
when he was greeted very warmly by a strange gentleman.
"This is Doctor Vincent, I believe,"
said the stranger, extending his hand.
"I am glad to meet you for my own sake, but especially for the sake of my little boy in the next car, who will regard meeting you as an epoch in his life."
The boy was brought in and informed, with great impressiveness,
that this was Doctor Vincent.
"I don't know him," said the child.
"What?" exclaimed the embarrassed
father. "You have often heard of him."
The boy's face was blank, and he shook his head.
"Why, just think a moment! You've heard his name connected with something. What is it?"
The boy realized that something was expected of him, and after a moment's thought, he asked, "Is it Doctor Vincent's tooth powder?"

Why He Was Feted.
The lawyer had been fettering the witness for some time and finally asked:
"Was any member of your family
ever hung?"
"Yes, sir."
"Ah, hal! I thought as much. Now,
sir, who was it?"
"Myself!"
"Youself! Do you mean to say that you've been hung and are alive today?"
"Yes, sir."
"Come, now; no trifling! Tell the jury what you were hung for and how you happened to be alive to-day."
"Well, sir, a man was killed and I was suspected of having committed the crime. A mob took me out, put a rope around my neck, and hauled me up to the limb of a tree when some one in the crowd shouted that the mardered man was a certain lawyer. They couldn't cut me down quickly enough. I was filled up with the best whiskey the place afforded and given a banquet, as the greatest public benefactor in this history of the town."

How a Town Was Named.
Aitch is the name of a postoffice in Huntington county, Pa. The origin of its name is of a somewhat curious nature. However, it relates from civilized sources. There were five proprietors of the town. Each of them wished the office to be named after himself. But they could not come to an agreement, and finally as a compromise, the first letter from each name was taken and placed together and thereby originated Aitch.
